OCSNO annually honors one of our own as “Orange County School Nurse of the Year”. This award will be announced in January and presented at the OCSNO Spring Conference.

Nominations are due by December 1, 2011.

Perhaps you know an outstanding school nurse who deserves the award of Orange County School Nurse of the Year. This nurse may have made a difference for a child by advocating for him, helped a family successfully deal with a serious health issue, been a role model for staff or students, implemented a special program or curriculum in her district, or been an active health leader in her community. If so, we need to know about it!

To be eligible, the following criteria must be met. The school nurse must be the following:

- A registered professional nurse
- Employed full time as a school nurse
- Actively employed in Orange County
- A current member of OCSNO for at least two years
- A supervisor or administrator is eligible if she provides direct services to students
